

ETON BOYS KILLED IN FIRE.

TWO LIVES LOST IN ONE OF THE FAMOUS SCHOOLS' DORMITORIES

Barred Window Prevented Escape of One of the Boys—Thirty-one Get Out—Building Was Old—King and Queen Sent Condolences to Parents of Victims

SPECIAL CABLE DISPATCH TO THE SUN.
WINDSOR, England, June 1.—Two pupils of Eton College were killed in a fire which started in one of the dormitories of the famous public school at 3:30 o'clock this morning.

The dead are J. K. Horne, a son of Major Horne, of the Highland Light Infantry, and F. H. Lawson, a tutor, Mr. Kinderley, was slightly burned and several persons were injured by flying debris.

The dormitory was under the charge of Tutor Kinderley, and there were thirty-three boys asleep in the building when the fire started. The flames were first noticed by a sentry of the Scots Guards from the north terrace of Windsor Castle. Four fire brigades were summoned, and many of the masters of the school appeared on the scene and rendered every assistance to the firemen.

The fire was in what is known as the Baldwin House School, Mr. Kinderley, Mrs. Kinderley and their children, as well as thirty-one of the boys, escaped in their night clothes. Mr. Kinderley was injured in an attempt to save the boys and was finally compelled to jump from a window.

Some of the boys experienced much difficulty in making their escape, as many of the windows were barred. The boys scrambled out of some of the windows on a large creeper and jumped into mattresses. Horne was seen struggling to get through a barred window. The flames were first noticed by a sentry of the Scots Guards from the north terrace of Windsor Castle. Four fire brigades were summoned, and many of the masters of the school appeared on the scene and rendered every assistance to the firemen.

It is thought that the fire was caused by a defective electric wire. The building, which was an old red brick structure, was gutted. In consequence of the accident the usual fourth of June celebrations at the school have been abandoned. After the fire the office at Windsor was crowded with boys telegraphing reassuring messages to their parents.

The King and Queen sent messages of the deepest sorrow to the college authorities and to the parents of the dead boys. It is probable that to-day's disaster at Eton College will be followed by the abolition of barred windows and that a new scheme will be devised to prevent boys leaving their rooms at night.

It is stated that the burned building, which was old, was a veritable death trap. The single staircase was a narrow, old-fashioned affair.

It is also said that Kinderley, the tutor in charge, decided only last Saturday to have the bars removed from the windows to-day, as he did not like the arrangement. He said that the fire would have been averted in a few minutes if he had not been awakened by the screaming of the people outside. He threw his children out and they were caught by spectators. F. H. Lawson, one of the two boys who were burned to death, was a grandnephew of Sir Edward Lawson, proprietor of the London Daily Telegraph.

PEKING, June 1.—Native papers report that the rebellion in Yunnan is spreading and that 3,000 foreign-drilled troops are leaving Nanking for that province. M. Uchida, the Japanese Minister, is attempting to reopen the Manchurian discussion with Prince Ching, head of the Board of Foreign Affairs, who has been professing for ten days to be sick although he is attending the court as usual. Hitherto he has refused an interview to the Japanese Minister.

It is understood that Prince Ching fears to go further with the Manchurian question without an interview with M. Lissar, the Russian Minister, who has just returned to Peking. M. Lissar's health does not seem to have been benefited by his absence. He is extremely weak, and to this is due his absence in preparing a new presentation of Russia's case to the Board of Foreign Affairs.

When the Hecla Iron Works at Berry and North Eleventh streets, Williamsburg, were reopened yesterday, after having been shut down for nearly three weeks because of a strike by some of its workmen, who demanded a Saturday half holiday and an increase in wages ranging from 10 to 40 per cent. A large number of men who were locked out as the result of the strike applied for their old jobs. The company issued a notice last week giving to the strikers and other employees an opportunity to return to work on the same terms as before. In anticipation that there would be trouble on the part of the strikers, reserves from the Bedford avenue police station were detailed to places near the big plant, and the strikers with their pickets and some walking delegates were kept on the move. Nearly all the men, about 150, went back to work. They had no grievances against the company.
